Investment objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term growth of capital with low or no correlation to the MSCI World Index. The Fund takes long and short exposures to common and preferred stocks of companies primarily in developed countries outside the U.S. and of companies in the U.S.

Fund features

- Combines Causeway's fundamental (long portfolio) and quantitative (short portfolio) research capabilities
- The long portfolio uses Causeway's global value equity strategy
- The short portfolio uses a quantitative investment strategy to identify short exposures that Causeway expects to underperform the MSCI World Index

The performance data quoted herein represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost, and current performance may be lower than the performance quoted. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1.866.947.7000.

Returns greater than one year are annualized. Total returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions at net asset value when paid. Investment performance reflects contractual fee waivers. In the absence of such fee waivers, total return would be reduced.

The ICE BofAML 3-Month U.S. Treasury Bill Index is comprised of a single issue purchased at the beginning of the month and held for a full month. Each month the index is rebalanced and the issue selected is the outstanding Treasury Bill that matures closest to, but not beyond 3 months from, the rebalancing date. The Treasury Bills comprising the Index are guaranteed by the U.S. government as to the timely payment of interest and principal. The Fund will primarily be exposed to equity securities, which are not guaranteed. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. In addition to the normal risks associated with equity investing, international investing involves risk of loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Current and future holdings are subject to change. Diversification does not protect against market loss. There is no guarantee that securities mentioned will remain in or out of the Fund.

The Fund is not appropriate for all investors. The Fund uses swap agreements to obtain long and short exposures to securities. Swaps are derivatives which involve the use of leverage, and the Fund uses significant leverage. The use of leverage is speculative and can magnify any losses. Short positions will lose money if the price of the underlying security increases, and losses on shorts are therefore potentially unlimited. The use of swap agreements involves significant swap expenses including financing charges and transaction costs which will reduce investment returns and increase investment losses. The Fund risks loss of the amount due under a swap agreement if the counterparty defaults. The Fund currently enters into swap agreements primarily with one counterparty, focusing its exposure to the credit risk of that counterparty. Swap agreements involve liquidity risks since the Fund may not be able to exit security exposures immediately, particularly during periods of market turmoil. The Fund settles swap agreements at least monthly which can cause it to realize ordinary income and short-term capital gains, if any, throughout the year that, when distributed to shareholders, will be taxable to them as ordinary income rather than at lower long-term capital gains rates. The Fund's long and short notional exposures will generally not exceed plus or minus 10% of net assets. However, the long and short portfolio will have different exposures under swap agreements that will not be fully hedged. This is not a complete list of the Fund's risks. See the Fund's prospectus for additional information on risks.
